

The Art of RECEIVING your desires

With Rev. Janice Thomas, MA, CRS

The natural flow to life is one of allowing in all that we need as we move through our lives. Almost like flicking a switch, when we move into “lack consciousness,” we cut off that flow and struggle into the world of victim, blame, and lack of resources.

As a group we will go into the place of flow as we release what blocks us from it, propelling each person further along in their journey of growth in life and at the same time opening the space for more love and ability to receive.

This afternoon session goes beyond a normal group meditation because it connects attendees to higher consciousness energies which bring wisdom and transformative energies. As well as deep inner peace connection, we may release toxic blockages in our energy fields and say good-bye to unpleasant memories and stuck emotions forever.
